

THE Social Studies

INDEX TO VOLUME 91

Articles

- Adeyemi, Michael Bamidele. Teaching Conflict Resolution to Social Studies Students in Botswana. 1, 38.
- Allen, Rodney F. Civic Education and the Decision-Making Process. 1, 5.
- Anderson, Terry L., and Jane S. Shaw. Is Free-Market Environmentalism "Mainstream"? 5, 227.
- Arora, Swarnjit S., William L. Holahan, and Mark C. Schug. Can Free-Market Environmentalism Be Mainstream? Teachers' Attitudes about Economic Perspectives on the Environment. 5, 232.
- Bartel, Virginia, and Jane Hart. A Preschool Adventure: We're Going to Africa. 5, 235.
- Boyle-Baise, Marilynne, Wilma Longstreet, and Anna S. Ochoa-Becker. On Democracy and Pluralism: An Invitation to Read beyond Our Field. 5, 215.
- Brown, Edward E. Playground or Battleground? The New ABCs. 5, 207.
- Bryant, Carol, and Robert Bryant. Social Studies in the Block Schedule: A Model for Effective Lesson Design. 1, 9.
- Cate, Timothy E. "This Is Cool!" Multigenre Research Reports. 3, 137.
- Chilcoat, George W. Flippy Guerrilla Street Theater. 6, 272.
- Chiodo, John J. Teaching about Manifest Destiny: Clarifying the Concept. 5, 203.
- Dankar, Anita C. Linking Technology with Social Studies Learning Standards. 6, 253.
- Doppen, Frans H. Teaching and Learning Multiple Perspectives: The Atomic Bomb. 4, 159.
- Dunn, Mary Anna. Closing the Book on Social Studies: Four Classroom Teachers Go beyond the Text. 3, 132.
- Elison, William. Netwar: Studying Rebels on the Internet. 3, 127.
- Garii, Barbara. U.S. Social Studies in the 21st Century: Internationalizing the Curriculum for Global Citizens. 6, 257.
- George, Marshall A., and Andi Stix. Using Multilevel Young Adult Literature in Middle School American Studies. 1, 25.

- Harris, Judy J. A Korean Hand Game for American Children. 1, 21.
- Huerta, Grace C., and Leslie A. Flemmer. Using Student-Generated Oral History Research in the Secondary Classroom. 3, 110.
- Jadallah, Edward. Constructivist learning Experiences for Social Studies Education. 5, 221.
- Johannessen, Larry R. Using a Simulation and Literature to teach the Vietnam War. 2, 79.
- Kirman, Joseph M., and Chris Jackson. The Use of Postage Stamps to Teach Social Studies Topics. 4, 187.
- Kubow, Patricia K., and Mark B. Kinney. Fostering Democracy in Middle School Classrooms: Insights from a Democratic Institute in Hungary. 6, 265.
- McGee, Tim, and David Bellis. Teaching about Korea—in Wando and Worland. 1, 17.
- Morris, Ronald Vaughan. Teaching Social Studies with Artifacts. 1, 32.
- Owens, William T. Country Roads, Hollers, Coal Towns, and Much More—A Teacher's Guide to Teaching about Appalachia. 4, 178.
- Pahl, Ronald H. Social Studies and the New Physics. 1, 42.
- Parry, Lindsay J. Transcending National Boundaries: Hilda Taba and the "New Social Studies" in Australia. 2, 69.
- Percival, Jane E., and Deborah J. Black. A True and Continuing Story—Developing Culturally Sensitive, Integrated Curriculum in College and Elementary Classrooms. 4, 151.
- Raina, Vijay K., and Harry Dhand. Reflections on Teaching History in the Developing World: An Indian Experience. 2, 84.
- Richburg, Robert W., Kathleen Harward, and Kathy Steinkamp. Learning from Mistakes in History—A Thematic Instructional Unit. 6, 279.

- Sanchez, Tony R. It's Time Again for Heroes—Or Were They Ever Gone? 2, 58.
- Schug, Mark C. What Does Economics Contribute to Environmental Education? 2, 53.
- Scott, Thomas J., and Michael O'Sullivan. The Internet and Information Literacy: Taking the First Step toward Technology Education in the Social Studies. 3, 121.
- Sills-Briegel, Toni, and Deanne Camp. Using Literature to Explore Social Issues. 3, 116.
- Sturma, Michael, and Judy MacCallum. JFK in the Classroom. 3, 101.
- Torney-Furta, Judith. An International Perspective on the NAEP Civics Report Card. 4, 148.
- VanFossen, Philip J., and James M. Shiveley. Using the Internet to Create Primary Source Teaching Packets. 6, 244.
- Wasta, Stephanie, and Carolyn Lott. Civil War Stories: An Integrative Approach to Developing Perspective. 2, 62.
- Wile, James M. A Literacy Lesson in Democracy Education. 4, 170.
- Wilson, Angene H. Enlarging Our Global Perspective: Lessons from Ghana. 5, 197.

Book Reviews

- American Stories: Collected Scholarship on Minority History from The OAH Magazine of History*. Reviewed by Jeffrey Byford. 3, 142.
- Children of Cambodia's Killing Fields: Memoirs by Survivors*, compiled by Dith Pran. Reviewed by Samuel Totten. 2, 92.
- The Elements of Teaching*, by James Banner, Jr., and Harold C. Cannon. Reviewed by Leslie Coleman. 3, 141.

Classroom Success Stories:

- Davis, Anita Price. The New Millennium Begins on January 1, 2001. 2, 89.